Property Description

Exquisite Colonial Home This quietly elegant home sits on a 10,000 sqm (2.47 acres) piece of land in San Isidro de Heredia. It is surrounded by gorgeous views of lush green rolling hills. The stone motif that surrounds the exterior, the typical colonial red tiled roof, the wooden components of the windows and other materials present a sober vision of beauty. The property includes the main house, a guest house, and a caretaker's house. The multilevel main house consists of a spacious living room with a chimney and a handsome receding ceiling that provides soft illumination. It has a family room, a big kitchen with modern appliances, office, master suites, three and half bathrooms, and covered garage for two. There are plenty of parking spaces outside. There are several outside terraces to sip coffee in and enjoy the luxurious view. The main room is on the second floor and it has its own balcony and chimney.
