Property Description

The virtues of this property are its size, usability, views, location and overall beauty. Size: 12 HECTS / 29 ACRES makes it appropriate for those that want a buffer around them. You are well into the property there - no neighbors nearby to wake you up with loud music, or barking dogs in the middle of the night. Usability: The land is rolling and mostly usable, making it a strong option for those looking for a retreat, community, family-compound, fruit/vegetable/herb producing farm etc. There are numerous potential building sites, and the usability of most of the 29 acres makes for a blank slate of creativity for the buyer. Views: Vast and sweeping overlooking to the large valley, the valley views alone are inspiring, Add to this the view out to the Pacific Ocean, which can be seen on the highest point of the mountain, you can pick your best options of view. The sunsets over the ocean are spectacular.
