Property Description

This is one of the last opportunities to own a sunset ocean view property in the southern zone for under a million dollars within a gated community. The property consists of two one-bedroom villas with sunset ocean views and breathtaking views of the Manuel Antonio islands. Both villas were built in October 2019 and are situated just 10 minutes from the quaint village of Portalon. The villas are secluded in the gated community of the “La Joya,” and driving up is a breeze as most of the road is paved. Each villa has its own kitchen, living room, bedroom, and bathroom. The current owner has used the villas as a vacation getaway and as separate Airbnb rentals to generate income. The property also offers an additional ocean/sunset view building area if the new owner adds another villa or a larger home. The dream of finding that private spot nestled in the jungle. A magnificent area for nature lovers surrounded by primary rainforest & wildlife.
